MORNING AND EVENING STARS.

Venus will be Evening Star until May 7, then Morning Star the rest of the year.

Mars will be Evening Star until Nov. 11, then Morning Star.

Jupiter will be Morning Star until March 18, then Evening Star until Dec 31.

Saturn will be Morning Star until Jan. 19, then Evening Star until Oct. 26, then Morning Star.

Mercury.—This planet will be visible and brightest about April 8, Aug. 7, and Dec. 3, being then in the west soon after sunset. It will appear in the east before sunrise about Feb. 3, June 1, and Sept. 26.

Venus will be brightest April 1 and June 13, being in the western sky in the former case, and in the eastern in the latter.

NOTE.—The superior planets are regarded as Evening Stars from the time of their western quadratures to conjunction with the sun.

THE SOLAR SYSTEM.

The Sun, the centre of the Solar System, has a diameter of 885,680 miles, and its bulk is 1,400,000 times greater than that of the Earth, and 700 times greater than that of all the bodies revolving around it.

THE PLANETS.

Name.	Diameter in Miles.	Volume.	Distance from Sun.	Period of Revolution.	Mean Daily Motion. Deg. M. S.
Mercury,	2,950	$\frac{1}{19}$	37,000,000	3 mos.	4 05 32.6
Venus,	7,800	$\frac{9}{10}$	68,000,000	7½ mos.	1 36 07.8
Earth,	7,912	1	95,000,000	1 yr.	0 59 08.3
Mars,	4,500	$\frac{1}{6}$	145,000,000	2 yrs.	0 31 26.7
Asteroids,	(approximate)		250,000,000	4½ yrs.	0 12 50.9
Jupiter,	89,000	1,400	495,000,000	12 yrs.	0 04 59.3
Saturn,	79,000	1,000	900,000,000	29 yrs.	0 02 00.6
Uranus,	35,000	. 86	1,800,000,000	84 yrs.	0 00 42.4
Neptune,	31,000	60	2,800,000,900	164½ yrs.	0 00 21.5

The Moon's diameter is 2,160 miles, and her volume one-forty-ninth of that of the Earth. She revolves in her orbit once in 29½ days, at a distance of 240,000 miles from the Earth.

The Asteroids number 79, of which 2 were discovered in 1863. Leverrier estimates that their aggregate mass does not exceed one-third of that of the Earth.

VELOCITY OF THE EARTH'S MOTION.—The Earth moves forward in its orbit, 1,640,000 miles per day, 65,000 miles per hour, 1,100 miles per minute, and nearly 19 miles every second.

APPARENT TIME is reckoned by the revolutions of the Sun from the meridian to the meridian again. These intervals being unequal, of course the apparent solar days are unequal to each other.

MEAN TIME is time reckoned by the average length of all the solar days throughout the year. This is the period which constitutes the civil day of 24 hours.

TIDES OF THE PACIFIC COAST.

On the Pacific coast there is, as a general rule, one large and one small tide during each day; the height of two successive high waters occurring one A. M., the other P. M. of the same twenty-four hours, and the intervals from the next preceding transit of the moon are very different. The inequalities depend upon the moon's declination; they disappear near the time of the moon's declination being nothing, and are greatest about the time of its being greatest. The inequalities for low water are not the same as for high, though they disappear and have the greatest value at nearly the same times.

In Puget Sound the inequalities for the interval of high water and for the height of low water follow this rule, but those for the interval of low water and height of high water disappear about one day before the moon's declination is greatest, and are greatest about four or five days before the greatest declination.

When the moon's declination is north, the highest of the two tides of the twenty-four hours occurs at San Francisco about eleven and one-half hours after the moon's southing (transit), and when the declination is south, the lowest of the two high tides occurs about that interval. The lowest of the two low waters of the day is the one which follows next the highest high water.

To obtain the times of high or low water for Monterey, South Farallone, Mare Island, Benicia, Ravenswood, and Bodega, find the time for San Francisco, then subtract 1 h. 44 m. for Monterey, 1 h. 29 m. for the South Farallone, and 49 m. for Bodega; and add 34 m. for Mare Island, 1 h. 4 m. for Benicia, and 80 m. for Ravenswood.

For Humboldt Bay, Port Orford and Neeah Bay, find the time for Astoria, then subtract 40 m. for Humboldt Bay, 1 h. 16 m. for Port Orford, and 9 m. for Neeah Bay.

For Steilacoom and Semiahmoo Bay, find the time for Port Townsend, and add to it 57 m. for Steilacoom and 1 h. for Semiahmoo. The approximation will only be a rough one for Steilacoom.

REMARKS.

The climatic feature of predominant interest in its practical bearing, lies in our periodical rains, which we have portrayed in the above rain-table, arranged according to the seasons. The monthly amounts prior to January, 1853, have been, for the most part, estimated, and computed according to the most reliable information that can now be obtained, and are not wholly the result of our own positive admeasurements. It will be seen that the mean annual fall for thirteen years is above twenty inches, which would be ample for agricultural purposes, if it were uniformly distributed through the rainy months of every season; but, as appears, there is a great fluctuation not only in the monthly amounts, but also in the amounts of different seasons—so great as to lead to the conclusion that the deficiency must be made up, whenever it occurs, by irrigation. The reason why the floods of the season of '61-'62 were greater than those of the season 1852-'53, when more rain actually fell, is found in the great amount of zuvra rains at certain periods in December and January succeeding heavy snow storms, bringing down avalanches of melted snow and ice from the mountain sources of our rivers. In this way we may have a comparatively dry winter, and yet suffer from the most disastrous floods. As far as can be ascertained, the quantity of rain during the season, at Sacramento, measures from one-third to two-thirds less than that which falls on the western slope of our mountains and the higher parts of the valley.

JANUARY.

January was so called by the Romans from Janus, one of their deities, to whom the first day of the year was sacred.
